INTRODUCTION

The National Department of Social Development (NDSD) is responsible for the co-ordination and initiation of programmes and services on Gender-based Violence and Femicide, especially for women and children. The approach of psychosocial services on the phenomenon of GBV is on response, protection, care, and healing to the affected members of society. Realising that men and boys are also affected, nonetheless the focus of the policy is on the most vulnerable group, that is, women and children.

Resource Directory:

NDSD awarded Green Platform (PTY) Ltd the bid for the development of a National Resource Directory to promote accessibility of services to victims of Gender-based Violence (GBV). The Resource Directory serves as one of the strategies to reduce the victimization caused by protracted cross-referencing of the victims. All information in this Resource Directory has been obtained from the provincial Victim Empowerment Programme: (VEP) coordinators and provincial VEP service providers (counterparts). The layout of the Resource Directory is in an alphabetical order and national and provincial maps are inserted. The maps will assist in visualising where the victim is and appropriate/accurate locating or referring is imperative and can save a person's life.

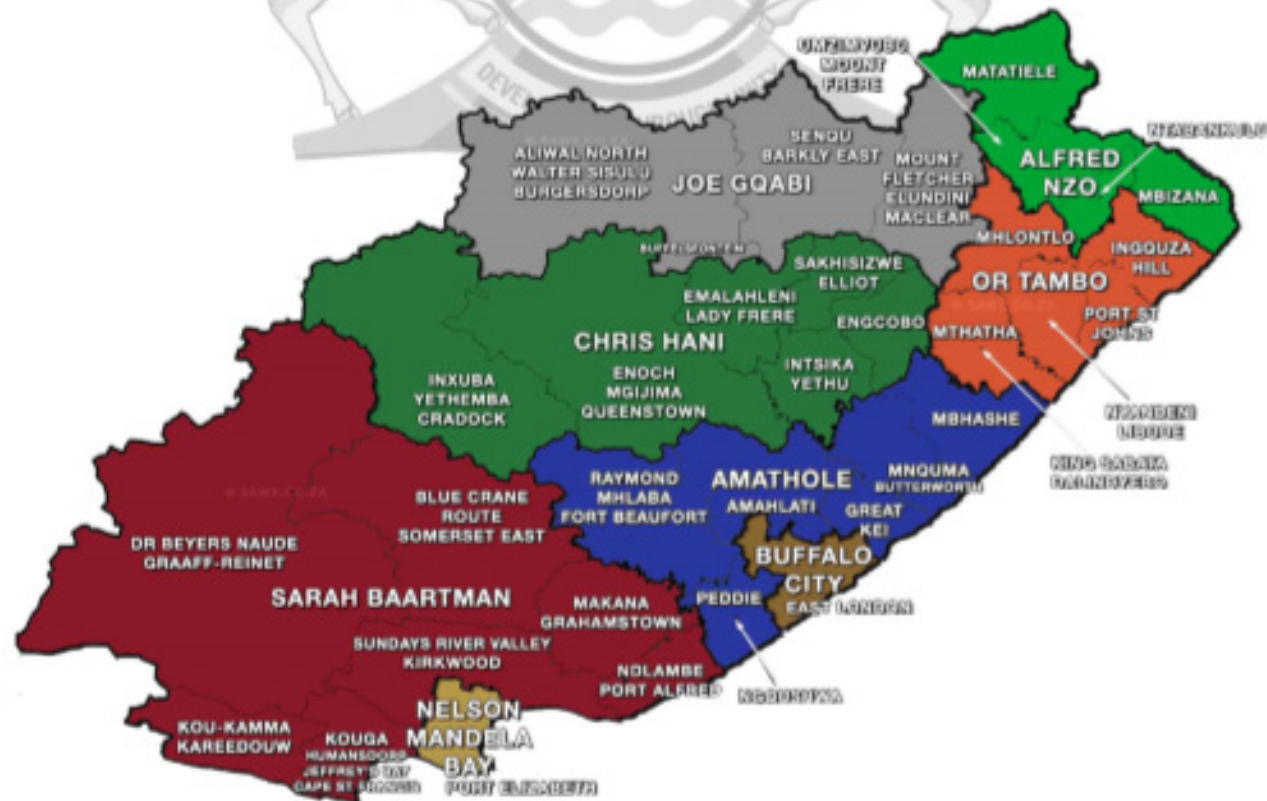

We trust that the Resource Directory (RD) is user-friendly and that it will enhance service delivery. You are most welcome to contribute towards excellence by submitting suggestions to National Department of Social Development on how you perceived the Resource Directory with suggested changes for improvement. See contact details at the back of this Resource Directory.

The Resource Directory outlines the Intersectoral VEP Management Team Members, Government One-stop Centres, Registered services of Non-Profit Organisations, Thuthusela One Stop Centres at hospitals. Police stations, hospitals and clinics are obvious in communities and are therefore not in all provinces reflected.
